SCHOONER AND SEVEN MEN LOST

THE NOKOMAS GOES TO THE BOTTOM IN A GALE.

Four Members of the Crew Picked Up by the Esther Gray and Landed in Newport - Friday's Storm Off the New England Coast the Worst of Years.

NEWPORT, July 30 .- In the gale that swept the New England coast last Friday morning the 32 ton fishing schooner Nekomas, belonging to the Union Supply ompany of Boston, with her captain and four of her crew, was lost.

The surviving members of the crew and news of the disaster were brought here late this afternoon by the fishing schooner Esther Gray, Capt. Thomas Frost. The survivors who were picked in by the Gray were Joseph Gray and Christopher Higgins of Gloucester, Watson Conrad of Lunenburg, N. S., and William Smith of Cape Negro, N. S. The men lost were Capt. John Pettipard of Gloucester, Louis Turner of Gloucester, Thomas Smith of Cape Negro, N. S.: conveyed to a hospital. Frank Dewey of Portland, Me., and Sumner Le Ball of Arichat, N. S.

Capt. Frost of the Gray reported that the gale of last Friday afternoon was about the worst that he had ever experienced. He was off South Shoals when about 5 o'clock his crew spied a dory with four men in it. The Gray was reefed down close and Capt. Frost after a hard battle brought his schooner close enough to the dory so that a line could be passed and the men were hauled aboard.

According to Joseph Gray, one of the survivors, the Nokomas left Boston two weeks ago, last Wednesday to go swordfishing off the South Shoals lightship.

Luck had been good, for when the schooner load washed away. Capt. Frost of the Gray reported that was struck by the gale she had 100 fish

"Friday morning we were struck by the gale," he said, "and lost our foresail. Our vessel drifted in toward the breakers and we were practically helpless, for soon after our sail was carried away we lost our rudder. The seas broke over us and filled the cabin despite our efforts. An other heavy sea struck the forecastle and our vessel soonfilled.

"Le Ball was washed overboard and nothing could be done to save him. Just about this time it was decided to abandon ship and the dories were brought alongside after difficulty and the four other men who lost their lives took one and the men who were brought here manned the other. Capt. Pettipard's dory was the first away. She was struck by a heavy sea and swamped.

We in the second dory drifted helplessly until we sighted the Gray. We managed to keep our dory free of water and through great work by the Gray's crew we were taken aboard."

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., July 30 .- The fishing schooner Arbitrator arrived here to-day and reported the loss of four of her crew who were out in dories on the Georges when the gale sprang up on Friday morning.

Capt. Sylva said that all the dories but two responded to the signals to come aboard when it was seen that the storm was increasing. In these were Louis Perry, Francisco Vacico, Manual Oliver Demingo, all residents of this

The fishing steamer J. B. RIVAL LEADERS ISSUE STATE MENTS TO THE VOTERS.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Tannta Conservatives With Opposing Lifetong Policy of Their Great Leaders Nonsense to Talk of Annexation, Premier Says.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 30. The biggest political fight in Canada's history began to-night in the form of statements issued by the rival leaders, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and R. L. Borden. Sir Wilfrid seldom speaks for publication, and the last statement issued by him was made three years ago. In his statement to-night, after referring to the history of the various attempts by all political parties in Canada to get reciprocity with the United States "Within the last twelve months the President of the United States sent to Ottawa two commissioners from Washington for the purpose of opening negotiations looking toward the lowering of the tariff barriers which have hitherto stood in the way of freer exchange of commodities between Canada and the United States. These negotiations in January last culminated in an agreement between the two governments by which the duties of each country in such products might be lowered or altogether removed.

This agreement was strenuously resisted in the United States by various interests on the alleged ground that it was all to the advantage of Canada and to the detriment of the other country, but the view that it was mutually advantageous to both countries finally prevailed in Congress, and the agreement stands to day as an offer by the United States to Canada of that very measure on reciprocity which for more than forty years has engaged the earnest and constant efforts of every leading Canadian states-

"The present conservative party in Parliament seeks absolutely to reverse of retirement the lifelong policy of its great leaders in the past declaring that it will oppose to the bitter end the very principles enunciated by both Sir John MacDonald and Sir John Thompson in the last elec-tion addresses upon which each of these statesmen ever appealed to the Canadian people.

"Not content to debate this proposition upon its merits the Conservative party in the House of Commons has adopted a system of organized and avowed obstruction to prevent any vote being taken in Parliament by which the opinion of your representatives there could be

or your representatives expressed.

"It has been alleged by the opposition that this agreement if consummated would imperil the connection with the mother country and finally bring the annexation of Canada to the United States.
It is impossible to treat such an argument with any kind of respect. Indeed the
